Malware is probably being triggered by the media action.
Highly doubt the audible app is the source.

It's not Malware. Those URL's are related to PlayXpert/Kochava. They're a mobile analytics company based out of Sandpoint, Idaho that many companies use to improve their mobile app engagement.

Disney, Netflix, Paramount/CBS, etc all use them as well.

I have an iPhone 11 Pro and never seen this happen. I have the latest updated app too.

The android app tests clean on both Malwarebyres and Bitdefender and has nothing particularly unusual show up in Adguard or Addons detector besides the usual analytics. Don't see why the iPhone app would be that much different.

Its almost certainly analytics being misidentified.

Contact Audible. They should be able to address your concerns.
